Notes from the President

Welcome to the April issue of the InSEA members' e-newsletter. This issue has details of dates for most of the events, others will be added in the next e-newsletter. At the moment these are open access events. However, in the future priority will be given to InSEA members, booking will still be required so please make a note of your membership number, you may need it to reserve a place in future.

The European Regional Congress postponed from July 2020 will take place in July 2021 online. The Latin American Regional Congress postponed from November 2020, will now take place in November 2021 online. More details about both events are contained in this e-newsletter and on our website. I look forward to 'seeing' you there!

Members of the InSEA World Council are striving to maintain the services we provide for our members in all parts of the world. The World Councillors and the Executive Officers are all volunteers and work hard to ensure that we all stay connected and creative in these difficult times.

Thank you to all our members of the World Council. And, thank you for being a member of InSEA, tell your friends and colleagues about

InSEA, tell your friends and colleagues about this unique Society - they can join us at

Copy deadline for May 2021 issue: 1200 noon MONDAY 26 April 2021 (UTC)

Glen Coutts

President (2019-22)

The InSEA World Council and Executive Board have been working hard to develop a new website that will continue to serve our members, but will also take into account the changing circumstances we find ourselves in as an international community working to promote education through art.

As I am sure you will understand, this is a huge task and we hope that the new site will be rolled out within the next three months.

For members, it will mean, amongst many other things, a different system of membership payment and renewal. So, please check that your membership is current and make a note of your membership number and password.

InSEA Europe Webinar: Saturday, April 17th 2021, 1000-1200 CET

Teaching Visual Arts to 5 - 12-year-old children

The webinar aims to open up a dialogue among general teachers, art teachers, and those practitioners that are concerned about the benefits of visual arts education for the development of young children. The webinar presents some exceptional examples of good practice for the early years up to 12-year-old children around Europe and particularly from the following countries: Cyprus, UK, Germany, and Norway. It will provide opportunities for engagement with different curricula and educational policies implemented in European countries. The webinar series has been designed to bring European teachers together, form alliances, and share good practices for art education. We hope to celebrate innovations and foster interconnectedness as well as respond to an inevitable change of education that the current social circumstances reveal. To register go to the Eventbrite site at this link.

ART-I-CULATE aims to champion cultural understanding and art-centered digital innovation between ASEAN and the UK by bringing together 40 young aspiring artists from 12 UK regions and 5 ASEAN countries. It is designed to bring together young people of diverse backgrounds to access life-changing opportunities to explore cross-cultural collaborations, growth-focused engagements and meaningful artistic synergies amidst the "new normal".

The programme enables participants to access high-quality digital series of art masterclasses, cultural dialogue, and a three month-long cross-cultural collaboration which equips participants to boost their portfolios whilst weaving long-lasting relationships.

The highlights of ART-I-CULATE are the digital art exhibition and the publication of the artworks collectively showcasing participants' enhanced artistic and technological know-hows, collaborative synergy and transformative cultural understanding of Southeast Asian and British arts and culture.

The 4th UNITWIN Virtual Symposium: Arts Education in and through a Time of Crisis. The conference will be held entirely online on May 25 and 26, 2021 of Crisis. The conference will be held entirely online on May 25 and 26, 2021

Today's world faces an unprecedented crisis: climate change, COVID-19, social diversity and equity issues no matter where we are. As research in arts education has demonstrated the social value, impact and role of arts education in various ways, we would like to gather artists and scholars to discuss how principles and practices of arts education can contribute profoundly to resolving the social and cultural challenges facing today's world, as stated in the Seoul Agenda's development goal no. 3.

A huge thank you to Karel, the designer from the Czech Republic who has worked on our branding and logo variants - as he says LET THE ART IN!!!!

Karel Řepa works as a teacher at the Department of Art Education at the University of South Bohemia in České Budějovice, where he also studied Czech Language and Literature, Art Education and Art Therapy. In his Ph.D. studies, he dealt with theories of the creative process from the view of psychodynamically oriented psychology.

... LATE_BREAKING NEWS... - the InSEA endorsed Relate North Virtual Symposium & Exhibition will be held in Tomsk University, Siberia, Russia in November 2021... The call for papers and artwork will be in the next e-newsletter...

InSEA management

This section of each e-news will provide details of how your elected officers, Boards, Editors, Working Groups, Committees and Regional Councils work for you. It is important to note that all these people are volunteers.- They all have busy jobs and give their time freely for the cause of education through art around the world. Each edition of the e-news will focus on the work of a different element of InSEA's management - here we look at what a World Councillor is expected to do...

Roles & Responsibilities - 2019-22

• Duties of an Elected World Councillor

• WORLD COUNCIL MEETINGS

· Support the work of the World Council within the aims and limits of InSEA's Constitution and Rules.

· Work with the other elected councillors in your Region (and regional Council if one exists) to produce a report for each World Council meeting

· Attend the InSEA Congresses and meetings of the World Council and participate in the discussions discussions.

· Represent your region, which in turn means that you should be actively involved in affairs related to art education in your region. This information, as far as it is relevant, should be brought to the attention of the World Council.

· Represent InSEA in your region by attending meetings and advocating and explaining the mission of InSEA.

· Bring any problems or ideas for initiatives to the World Council (preferably through the Executive).

· Be a goodwill ambassador for InSEA in your region and at Regional and World Congresses. Be ready to introduce and write reports on sessions. Help constituents find roommates, navigate travel, and provide advice and contacts as requested. Introduce foreigners and make them feel welcome.

· Consider chairing an InSEA subcommittee.

· Write a short annual report for the World Council. Reports should explain national activities and issues to be discussed at the World Council Meeting.

· Bring proposals and ideas based on the needs and experiences in your region.

• COMMUNICATION (with region and world)

· Consider writing reports or articles for the InSEA newsletter.

· Encourage others in your region to write articles for the InSEA newsletter.

· Encourage research article submissions to the InSEA journal.

· Have informal meetings with regional members at regional and world congresses.

· Encourage regional congresses in your region.

· Identify affiliates in your region and give this list to the executive.

· Create, maintain, and nurture relationships with affiliates in your region.

· Provide links on InSEA website for professional resources.

· Encourage new art education projects in your region: send an outline of the activity to the InSEA Executive and consideration will be given to InSEA endorsing the project.

• MEMBERSHIP in the REGION

· Assist treasurer in sending out membership renewals and membership cards for members in your region.

· Assist the treasurer with regional treasury responsibilities if called upon.

· Assist Journal editors and treasurer in publicising journals in your region.

· Encourage membership in InSEA (discuss strategies with other representatives with other representatives from your region).

· Regional representatives will partner with one another to determine which countries they will each work with to increase InSEA membership and encourage art education activities.

• BOARDS

· Be prepared to serve on one of InSEA's boards:

Research & Praxis Board

Advocacy & Networking Board

Publications Board

• WORKING GROUPS & COMMITTEES

Be prepared to serve on one of InSEA's working groups or committees:

• Marketing, Social Media & Protocols

• Membership

• Banking & Finance

• Elections & Appointments

- Learning Teaching and Professional Development
- Endowments and Donations
